ERUCH: So tell. Tell them the story about the child who saw Baba laughing or smiling. Passing in the car. Heather story.

MANI: You see this the story that we have heard that the time when Baba was in Washington and He was in a car going along the highway. And there was another car in the next lane going along the highway. And because of the traffic how you, your car has to pause and then go forward and stop. So at one point when Baba's car stopped, that other car also stopped. And Baba was looking out from His window, His side of the window. And there was a child in that other car and she was looking out of the window. And she saw Baba straight. You know, neighbours. Suddenly they were neighbours. And she looked at Him and He smiled and she saw that smile and just then their car moved. Her mother was driving. And she shouted. She said, "Mother, mother. I've just seen the President." [pilgrims laugh]

I mean to her. For her there was nothing higher than the President. And the smile that she received from the person was the highest for her. For the child. And so she said, "I've just seen the President."

So years later when we heard this, years later when the others came we asked. What do you know happened? And it seems, it seems she. How did she come across? A picture or something. And she recognised her President. And I think she's been to the Centre. Her name is Heather.

PILGRIM 2: I met her at the Centre.

PILGRIM 1: Huh?

ERUCH: Huh?

PILGRIM 2: I met her at the Centre years and years ago.

PILGRIM 1: Aha.

PILGRIM 2: I just know with the story you told.

ERUCH: She told the story?

PILGRIM 2: Yes.

PILGRIM 1: Oh.

ERUCH: Her name is Heather. We haven't seen her. We haven't yet met her. But years later she came to the Centre and recognised the picture. How she came we don't know. I don't know how. You have to ask somebody. Does anybody know? You know about?

PILGRIM 2: I know that years ago she was living in Pennsylvania and I could try and find out. You know, next time I go to Myrtle Beach.

MANI: Yes. And that story of.

ERUCH: No.

PILGRIM 1: Allen Coney.

ERUCH: Heather is coming, but that is a different
Heather that's coming.
